

Tilda and I, and the Dog Named Dracula / Tilda, und der geklaute Dracula

by Lara Schützsack
illustrated by Regina Kehn

Winner of the PAUL MAAR AWARD 2019

Nominated for Zürcher Kinderbuchpreis

- Friendship story with crime mystery plot
- Warm-hearted and funny

Oda and Tilda fit together like two pieces of Lego: perfectly! Oda is quick as a flash in most things (except for tidying up) but, unfortunately, she often fails to notice important details. Tilda is just as slow as her pet snail Miss Marple, but she usually never fails to notice even the tiniest detail.

When Dracula, the shaggy dog from the third floor, disappears, the two are absolutely certain: This has to be a genuine case of dognapping! They have to save Dracula! After all, they could earn the offered finder's fee of 250 euros – that is enough to buy 500 small bags of sweets at the kiosk! But then a lot of things get in their way and, suddenly, the two Lego pieces do not really fit anymore.

Hardcover
220 pp., 14.0 x 21.5 cm
Age 8+

All rights available

AUTHOR

Lara Schützsack, born in Hamburg in 1981, studied German, American and Comparative literature in Potsdam and Script Writing at the German TV and Film Academy in Berlin, where she still lives. For her debut novel "Und auch so bitterkalt" she was awarded the Ulla-Hahn-Autorenpreis 2014 and the Oldenburger Kinder- und Jugendbuchpreis 2014.

For more information and reading copies please contact:

ilka.wesche@fischerverlage.de ulrike.blank@fischerverlage.de esther.mallm@fischerverlage.de