GIRLS OF SPINDRIFT: MAYFAIR (eBook)

July 2018

Mayfair arrives at Spindrift School, and quickly begins to feel its walls are a prison, its teachers her wardens. Having become best friends with Corliss and Donna, the three of them become the de facto It Girls of Spindrift; the other students call them the Supremes—and not for their singing talents.

ECHOES IN THE WALLS (hardcover)

August 2018

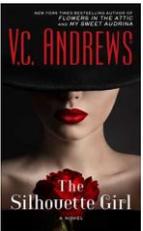

Fern and her mother have lived as servants in Wyndemere House, the old gothic mansion of the Davenport family, for as long as she can remember. And her friendship with Dr. Davenport's son Ryder was never a problem...until they came of age.

SPINDRIFT (eBook)

September 2018

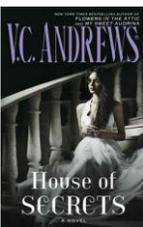

Book Four of the Girls of Spindrift. From the New York Times bestselling author of the Flowers in the Attic and My Sweet Audrina series (now Lifetime movies) continues a haunting new series featuring highly intelligent teenage girls who struggle to survive a specialized high school and find their place in a world that doesn't understand them. Such is the burden of being brilliant.

THE SILHOUETTE GIRL (hardcover)

January 2019

Pru Dunning has everything she ever wanted: a successful boyfriend, a thriving nursing career, and a truly comfortable life. But then the strange voicemails start. Scarlett, the woman calls herself. She seems to know Pru, although Pru certainly doesn't know that name, nor does she recognize the glamorous voice leaving her poisonous messages. Is this the work of jealous revenge from someone at work? An old enemy she has forgotten about?

HOUSE OF SECRETS: WHISPERING HEARTS (hardcover)

March 2019

Ever since Fern could remember, she and her mother have lived as servants in Wyndemere House, the old gothic mansion of the Davenport family. She may have been a servant, but Fern developed a sweet friendship with Dr. Davenport's son, Ryder, and she was even allowed free range of the estate.

But Dr. Davenport has remarried and his new wife has very different ideas about a servant's place. Now Fern and her mother are subject to cruel punishments, harsh conditions, and aren't even allowed to use the front door.

Coulter, Catherine

BRIT IN THE FBI: THE LAST SECOND (hardcover)

March 2019

It's Bastille Day in France, and the private French space agency Galactus—France's answer to Space X, owned by the eccentric treasure hunter Jean-Pierre Broussard—has just sent a satellite payload into orbit. Billed as a “communications” satellite, it harbors a frightening reality: a nuclear electromagnetic pulse has been hidden aboard.

The countdown has begun, and Special Agents Nicholas Drummond and Michaela Caine will go down to the wire to stop this heinous attack. With their signature “nonstop action with enough realism to keep you thinking and scare the daylights out of you at the same time” (Suspense Magazine), Coulter and Ellison have created a thriller to take you on a breakneck and breathtaking journey.

August 2019

Nat, a young art student in New York City, is struggling to pay her bills when her friend makes a suggestion: why not date a wealthy, older man? He'll pay her rent and give her a monthly allowance -- and all that's required is being his arm candy when he's in town. Sexual favors are optional. Though more than thirty years her senior, Grant, a corporate finance attorney, seems like the perfect candidate, and within a month, they are madly in love. At least, Nat is... Grant already has a family, whom he has no intention of leaving. When he ends everything, Nat begins to stalk him at work, tracking his phone, spying on his wife, even befriend his daughter, who's not much younger than she is. But when Grant is found dead in his posh Upper East Side apartment and the police find the murder weapon in Nat's apartment, she is sure she must have killed her lover; she just can't remember anything that happened that night

THE WALNUT CREEK SERIES:

FRIENDS TO THE END (ebook)

February 2019

When Andy's baby sister Trish gets caught out at the family cabin during a massive snow storm, he calls upon his best friends, The Magnificent Eight, to go to his sister's rescue. Andy knows that several members of the Eight will drop everything to help, and they're the perfect solution because the Amish don't need cars to work on the road--they do just fine in their carriages. But when Logan, Trish's secret crush, is the first to volunteer to save her, Trish worries that despite the freezing temperatures, being alone with Logan might mean that things could heat up pretty fast.

THE PATIENT ONE (ebook)

APRIL 2019

Seven former best friends, some Amish, some Mennonite, and some English, reunite after the tragic death of one of their own in New York Times bestselling author Shelley Shepard Gray's new a contemporary Amish romance series set in Walnut Creek, Ohio.

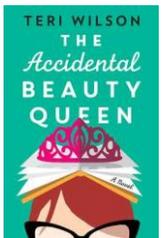

THE LOYAL ONE (paperback)

August 2019

When Katie Steury hires her old friend Harley Lambright to remodel her rundown old house into a charming bed and breakfast, she does so with trepidation. Though she and Harley are longtime friends, they also have a rocky relationship, thanks to her being partly responsible for the breakup with Harley's sweetheart three years ago. But though they may not always get along, she needs someone to trust with her secrets, and Harley is nothing if not trustworthy and loyal.

Armstrong, Heather
THE VALEDICTORIAN OF BEING DEAD (hardcover)
February 2019

From New York Times bestselling author and blogger Heather B. Armstrong comes an honest and irreverent memoir about her experience as one of only a few people to participate in an experimental study involving ten rounds of chemically-induced brain death as treatment for depression. Heather Armstrong is widely acknowledged as the most popular “mommy blogger” in the world. Her third book, THE VALEDICTORIAN OF BEING DEAD, is an honest and irreverent memoir about her experience as one of only a few people to submit to ten rounds of chemically-induced brain death as treatment for depression. Disarmingly honest and self-deprecating, it will appeal to anyone who has ever been touched by depression.

Territory: World

Heather B. Armstrong is widely acknowledged to be the most popular “mommy blogger” in the world. Her website, dooce®, has twice been listed as one of the 25 best blogs in the world by Time Magazine and Forbes listed it as a top 100 website for women. In the 14 years that Heather has been shaping the internet writing community, she’s worked to create targeted content for numerous global brands - including Ford, Nintendo, and Clorox – and written a New York Times bestseller, It Sucked and then I Cried. She lives in Salt Lake City with her two lovely daughters and their two insane dogs.

Clement, James, with Kristin Loberg
THE SWITCH: Activating Your Genes for a Leaner, Longer, Healthier Life (hardcover)
Spring 2020

THE SWITCH: Activating Your Genes for a Leaner, Longer, Healthier Life by James Clement is the first book to examine and present research on the body’s natural process for maintaining health and youthfulness, and the “dial” that controls it. Humans already possess the secret to living a long, disease-free life. We just might not be aware of it yet. Enter autophagy, an ancient mechanism built into our cells that eliminates toxic materials, initiates fat-burning, and protects cells against stress. This complex operation slows down the aging process and optimizes biological function as a whole, staving off all manner of disease—from diabetes to dementia—and affording us the healthy lifespan we never thought possible. Activating autophagy is as simple as flipping a switch. Revolutionary research in the last couple of years, including studies that earned a Japanese cell biologist the Nobel Prize in 2016, are finally bringing this groundbreaking discovery out of the shadows and into public awareness.

James Clement has devoted the last two decades to the science of life extension. He is the co-founder of H+ Magazine, which publishes articles on the cultural, scientific, and technological advances affording humans the ability to evolve past physical and mental limitations, a phenomenon referred to as transhumanism. In 2010 Clement decided to focus entirely on the biology of aging and commenced the Supercentenarian Research Study, for which he traveled across North America and Europe collecting over 60 blood samples from individuals 106 years and older in order to identify the characteristics that allowed them to avoid common increasingly life-threatening diseases like cancer, autoimmune disorders, and neurodegenerative ailments. Impressed by his work, leading scientists from around the world soon joined his scientific advisory board. Since then, Clement established the nonprofit Better Humans whose mission is to develop low-cost stem-cell and gene-therapy treatments in order to prolong health and youthfulness. Clement's research has already garnered national attention, with articles published last November in both The New York Times and London Times. Respected by top researchers, Clement is well-known in the scientific community, including across ResearchGate, a social networking site for scientists and researchers with over 9 million members worldwide. He can rely on the contributions of myriad bestselling authors to provide endorsements and/or promotional support. Clement is committed to leveraging his extensive network and growing recognition in the public eye in order to ensure his book's success.

Kristin Loberg specializes in taking experts' knowledge and turning it into reader-friendly works for general audiences. Kristin has a lengthy list of successful collaborations; multiple books on which she's worked have spent weeks on the New York Times, Wall Street Journal, Amazon, and USA Today bestseller lists including Grain Brain, The End of Illness, and A Short Guide to a Long Life.

Clery, Laura

IDIOT: ESSAYS (hardcover)

April 2019

Laura Clery makes a living by sharing inappropriate comedy sketches with millions of strangers on the Internet. She writes songs about her anatomy, talks trash about her one-eyed rescue pug, and sexually harasses her husband, Stephen. And it pays the bills! Now, in her first-ever book, Laura recounts how she went from being a dangerously impulsive, broke, unemployable, suicidal, cocaine-addicted narcissist, crippled by fear and hopping from one toxic romance to the next...to a more-happy-than-not, somewhat rational, meditating, vegan yogi with good credit, a great marriage, a fantastic career, and four unfortunate-looking rescue animals. Still, above all, Laura remains an amazingly talented, adorable, and vulnerable, self-described...Idiot.

Territory: World

Laura Clery is an actress and comedian best known for posting daily comedy sketches to Facebook and YouTube, where she has a combined 3.5 million followers and upwards of 22 million views.

Hillard, Chloé

F*CK YOUR DIET

September 2019

By the age of 12, Chloé was 6'1 and consumed with trying to fit in, in numerous ways. Being labeled a "big girl" certainly didn't help and in F*CK YOUR DIET, Chloé recounts the many terrible, laughable and insane approaches to health, weight loss, and self-worth, she and many Americans have taken in an effort to fit in. While she seeks to console those who failed diets or hid in the dark thinking no one would appreciate their lumps and bumps, she goes a step further to demonstrate how everything from government policies to corporate capitalism have been designed to impact her waistline, and probably yours.

Territory: World

Chloé is currently a writer on the Anjelah Johnson sketch show on Kevin Hart's new network and a writer on the upcoming VH1 show Nasty Women. She has appeared on Last Comic Standing, The Nightly Show with Larry Wilmore, MTV's Acting Out, and Harry, among others and was named one of Brooklyn's funniest people by Brooklyn Magazine. Prior to pursuing her comedy career, Chloé was a culture and entertainment journalist whose work has appeared in The Village Voice (eight cover stories), Essence, King, Vibe, and The Source.

Manigault Newman, Omarosa

UNHINGED (hardcover)

August 2018

The former Assistant to the President and Director of Communications for the Office of Public Liaison in the Trump White House provides an eye-opening look into the corruption and controversy of the current administration.

Few have been a member of Donald Trump's inner orbit longer than Omarosa Manigault Newman. Their relationship has spanned fifteen years—through four television shows, a presidential campaign, and a year by his side in the most chaotic, outrageous White House in history. But that relationship has come to a decisive and definitive end, and Omarosa is finally ready to share her side of the story in this explosive, jaw-dropping account. A stunning tell-all and takedown from a strong, intelligent woman who took every name and number, Unhinged is a must-read for any concerned citizen.

Territory: World

UK: Simon & Schuster UK

German: Riva/MVG

Omarosa Manigault Newman is the former Director of Communications for the Office of Public Liaison in Donald Trump's White House, and was an aide in the Office of Presidential Personnel and the Office of the Vice President in the Clinton White House. She has served as an adjunct professor in the Howard University School of Business. Prior to joining the Trump administration, Omarosa served as a chaplain in the California State Military Reserve. She currently serves in pastoral ministry at The Sanctuary @ Mt. Calvary Baptist Church in Jacksonville, Florida, where her husband, John Allen Newman, is the senior pastor.

McCubbin, Lisa

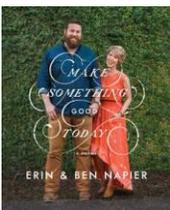

BETTY FORD: A LIFE (hardcover)

September 2018

Betty Ford: A Life is the inspiring story of an ordinary Midwestern girl thrust onto the world stage and into the White House under extraordinary circumstances. Setting a precedent as First Lady, Betty Ford refused to be silenced by her critics as she publicly championed equal rights for women, and spoke out about issues that had previously been taboo—breast cancer, depression, abortion, and sexuality. Privately, there were signs something was wrong. After a painful intervention by her family, she admitted to an addiction to alcohol and prescription drugs. Her courageous decision to speak out publicly sparked a national dialogue, and in 1982, she co-founded the Betty Ford Center, which revolutionized treatment for alcoholism and inspired the modern concept of recovery.

Territory: World

Lisa McCubbin is an award-winning journalist who has been a television news anchor and reporter, hosted her own radio show, and spent more than five years in the Middle East as a freelance writer. She is the New York Times bestselling coauthor of Five Presidents, Five Days in November, Mrs. Kennedy and Me, and The Kennedy Detail. Visit her at LisaMcCubbin.com.

MAKE SOMETHING GOOD TODAY: A MEMOIR (hardcover)

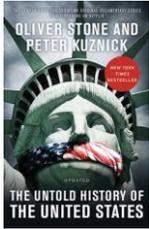

October 2018

Erin and Ben Napier never planned to be on television. After quitting her corporate job and striking out on her own to start a wedding stationery company, Erin began keeping an online journal. The purpose was to stay focused on the positive and count the blessings in her simple life. The blog, a love letter to her small Mississippi town, documented the stubborn pursuit of joy despite the dark turns that came: illness, uncertainty, roadblocks and fear.

Territory: World

Erin and Ben Napier, stars of HGTV's Home Town, live and restore homes in a small town in Mississippi. Erin, an artist who started her career in corporate graphic design, and Ben, a woodworker with a degree in history, embrace a passion for renovating historic homes.

Phelan, Tom
WE WERE RICH AND WE DIDN'T KNOW IT: STORIES FROM AN IRISH BOYHOOD
(hardcover)
March 2019

This memoir recounts Tom's upbringing from the day he was born to the day he left home to take the long path toward the Roman Catholic priesthood. More than that, it offers readers a glimpse of life in 1940s Ireland, where electricity is not yet universal; where Nurse Byrne wobbles around deep potholes in mucky country lanes on her way to deliver babies; where Father Flood, in what seems to be against the nature of the man, founds a boxing club for the local boys to beat each other senseless; and where Tom Phelan grew up in awe of the priests who lived in warm houses and always looked so clean.

Territory: World

Tom Phelan had just turned fifty when his first novel, In the Season of the Daisies, was accepted for publication by the Lilliput Press in Dublin. Since then, he has penned five other novels: Nailer, The Canal Bridge, Iscariot, Derrycloney, and Lies the Mushroom Pickers Told. He has also written for Newsday, the Irish Echo, and the Recorder, the journal of the American Irish Historical Society. Born and raised on a farm in Strahard, Mountmellick, County Laois, in the Irish midlands, Phelan now makes his home in New York.
